

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR SUPPORTING THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO IN INDIA VIA THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO TRUST

University of Chicago Trust

The University of Chicago Trust is a charitable trust in India, established by the University of Chicago to provide Indian citizens residing in India a tax-efficient avenue to support

University of Chicago education and research projects in India. Gifts to the trust are deductible under Section 80G of the India Income Tax Act, 1961.

PURPOSE OF THE TRUST:

- To award scholarships, grants, bursaries, and fellowships in cash or in books, periodicals, and computer hardware and software to students in India without regard to religion, caste, or creed on such terms and conditions as the trustees may think fit for purposes of undertaking, prosecuting, and encouraging their studies at the University of Chicago in such a manner and for such lengths of time as the trustees may decide and approve. (Students must be Indian citizens residing in India.)
- To provide grants and support to educational research programs and activities of the University of Chicago in India, in such a manner and for such lengths of time as the trustees decide and approve. (The funds must be spent in India.)

IMPORTANT NOTES:

- Scholarship payments are the only funds that can be transferred to the US by the trust. Prior to their transfer, a specific student must be named.
- All other gifts will be spent in India to support programs and initiatives of the University of Chicago that meet the purposes of the trust.
