

Hao Zha

China Subnational Captain
Oxford COVID-19 Government Response Tracker (OxCGRT)
Blavatnik School of Government
University of Oxford

Hao Zha

Hao Zha is a dual master at the School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University, and the School of Social Science, University of Geneva. As the captain of the China subnational team of OxCGRT, he leads the data collection in China and the writing of Chinese provincial government responses to COVID-19 with professor Thomas Hale. Before joining OxCGRT, he participated in the Global Dashboard for Vaccine project at UNDP and served as an assistant analyst at ICBC International to track global and Chinese macroeconomic policies under the epidemic. Hao's research interests span global sustainable development, corporate social responsibility, clean energy transition, and policy process theories. His recent research has appeared in Environmental Science & Technology and Chinese Public Administration Review.