Professor Enrijeta Shino

Enrijeta Shino is an Assistant Professor of Political Science at the University of North Florida. Enrijeta earned her PhD in Political Science from the University of Florida in 2019. Her research interests span the topics of elections, turnout, voter behavior, public opinion, survey and political methodology. One of the main questions that informs her research agenda is how election laws shape and mobilize the electorate. This theme figures prominently in her publications in academic journals such as Electoral Studies, Election Law Journal, Journal of Elections, Public Opinion and Parties, and American Politics Research. Her research has been featured in major news outlets such as the Washington Post and the New York Times.
