

The Chicago Center for Teaching and Graduate Student Affairs invite PhD Students to participate in Careers in the Academy: Visiting Chicago-Area Institutions.

Space is limited. PhD Students should APPLY HERE to participate

September 15 and 16 (Transportation provided)

The Chicago Center for Teaching and Graduate Student Affairs invite PhD students at all stages to apply to participate in a two-day series of campus visits to local institutions of higher education. Meet with faculty, current undergraduates, academic officers, and UChicago alumni at:

- Dominican University
- Lake Forest College
- Northwestern University
- Saint Xavier University

- ❖ Learn from faculty at liberal arts colleges and research universities
- ❖ Discuss specific institutional cultures and missions
- ❖ Observe classrooms to get a sense of how undergraduates engage with curricula

Apply online (CV and Letter of Interest Required) by August 18th at noon. Your Letter of Interest should address:

- Why you would like to visit these institutions
- How this program might inform your application process on the academic job market

If you have questions, please contact Chandani Patel (patelc@uchicago.edu) at the Chicago Center for Teaching.

Lake Forest College...pretty nice in September
