Professor So Hye Kim (PhD’19)

Research Professor
International Research Center for Korean Languages and Culture
Korea University

Professor So Hye Kim

So Hye Kim currently works as a research professor of the International Research Center for Korean Languages and Culture at Korea University. She received her Ph.D. in East Asian Languages and Civilizations from the University of Chicago in 2019 and taught courses on Korean cinema, culture, and literature at Northwestern University as Weinberg Postdoctoral Fellow from 2019 until 2021.

Her research interests center on Korean and East Asian films of diaspora, as well as transnational East Asian cinema and independent film movements. Her manuscript in progress entitled Beyond Longing and Belonging: The Cinematic Interplay between the Nation and its Diaspora in South Korea, locates Korean diaspora films within the history of East Asian cultural production during the long twentieth century and contextualizes the cinematic mobility of Korean diaspora in the post-Cold War era. By doing so, it interrogates the ways in which Korean diaspora films affect, subvert, and transform both the national and transnational imagination of Korean cinema. Recently, she has organized an exhibition and forum on the films of Koreans in Japan at the 2021 DMZ International Film Festival.