

Ai Sakata

Expert in Silver Economy and Gerontology

Ms Sakata works in a major think tank in Japan, and consults clients including Japanese national government agencies, local governments and private companies. She researches on silver economy, aging businesses and gerontology, and compares policies, trends and practices in a global context. Ms Sakata has made presentations on aging-related topics in Japan and France. She has a Master's Degree in Gerontology from King's College London, University of London."