

The Hong Kong Jockey Club University of Chicago Academic Complex
The University of Chicago Francis and Rose Yuen Campus in Hong Kong

Dear Friends,

We are pleased to have invited Lenore A. Grenoble, John Matthews Manly Distinguished Service Professor, Department of Linguistics at the University of Chicago, to speak at a public lecture on “New Neighbors? Migration, Multilingualism and the Modern City” on March 24.

The public talk will be held at our campus and everyone is welcome. Please spread the news and invite your friends and colleague who may be interested to join.

Please see the poster below or click here for more details and registration.

With regards,
Kitty Chong
Senior Director

New Neighbors? Migration, Multilingualism and the Modern City

Human migrations and relocations have been taking place for centuries, but the last 75 years have seen major population shifts from rural areas to urban centers. Urbanization comes from both in-migration and transnational migrations due to an array of social and economic factors. In this talk, Professor Lenore Grenoble will discuss the causes of urban multilingualism, and how questions of linguistic diversity play into issues of identity and nationalism in the home, across social networks, in local neighborhoods, and the larger context of the city as a whole

Date: March 24, 2019
Time: 2-4pm
Venue: The Hong Kong Jockey Club University of Chicago Academic Complex |
The University of Chicago Francis and Rose Yuen Campus in Hong Kong

Speaker:  Lenore A. Grenoble
John Matthews Manly Distinguished Service Professor
Department of Linguistics
The University of Chicago

Program and Registration:

Share this email:

Manage your preferences | Opt out using TrueRemove™

Got this as a forward? Sign up to receive our future emails.

View this email online.

168 Victoria Road,
Mount Davis, | Hong Kong

This email was sent to .
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

