

Women's Suffrage Movement in America

Speaker : Meneese Wall

Meneese Wall is a graphic artist, award-winning author, and writer whose work focuses on women's suffrage and American(s)heroes. Her creations highlight dynamic issues of interest from the past and the present, expressed through social commentary, fiction, nonfiction, parody, satire, and humor. Both her visual and written works have been published in numerous magazines, books, and online journals. In her most recent book, 'We Demand the Right to Vote: The Journey to the 19th Amendment', Meneese's writing and illustrations transport readers to the American women's suffrage movement—1848-1920—to uncover a fuller picture of the events and people that shaped today's America. Her work inspires reflection, conversation, and action.
