Spring 2014: Week 4

April 21, 2014

Resident Spotlight: Carlo Raimondo

My name is Carlo and I am visiting researcher at the Chicago Booth School of Business. I am from Italy and I studied at the University of Bologna – the most ancient university in the world – both for my Bachelors degree in economics and my Masters degree in finance. I am currently a PhD student there. My research interests are mainly in corporate finance and now I am developing my PhD thesis on the relation between finance and media. I'm enjoying living in I-House especially because of the people living here, always willing to help you and to share experiences, viewpoints and a good meal!
